Adjective= adjectif

Un adjectif est un mot qui t'aide à dire comment est quelque chose ou quelqu'un. On les utilise pour faire de la description.

En anglais l'adjectif est placé avant le nom.

Example: A fat dog.

-A- et -fat- sont des adjectifs de -dog- ces 2 mots me donnent des informations sur le nom «dog».

Les adjectifs peuvent être des mots de différentes natures.

2) Describe the pictures of the following document (A and B.)

The Zulu Nyala Game Lodge offers a unique and authentic taste of the African bush in the heart of South Africa. This natural paradise is home to a wide variety of game: elephants, rhinoceros, buffaloes, lions, zebras as well as all sorts of birds. Guests can participate in day or night safari drives in an open Land Rover, follow the footprints of elephants along ancient riverbeds during guided walks, or relax by the swimming pool. We offer excellent cuisine too.

Rates⁴: 500 Rand per person (includes all meals, teas/coffees, one game drive per day).

Facilities: tennis and snooker⁵.

Meals: served on the veranda or in the dining room. Bush dinners may also be arranged.

4) Read the lesson and do the exercise n°4

Le comparatif de supériorité

Adjectifs courts	Adjectifs longs	Adjectifs irréguliers
adj-er + than A B&B is cheaper than a hotel. Capetown is bigger than Durban. Is an elephant heavier than a rhino?	more + adjectif + than A hotel is more comfortable than a B&B	good → better than bad → worse than far → farther than

On double la consonne finale sauf si elle est précédée de 2 voyelles : fat = → fatter – cheap = → cheaper.
 Le -y final devient -i s'il est précédé d'une consonne : heavy = → heavier.
